BONJOUR BORDEAUX

After Paris and Marseille, the timeless design of the Minotti collection finds its ideal setting in the new Silvera showroom in Bordeaux, in perfect harmony with the evocative atmosphere of the recently restored 19th century hôtel particulier.

The new French address is the expression of an innovative concept, developed within a period residence and designed to offer an immersive and engaging experience for professionals and design enthusiasts.

The protagonists of the open-air landscape include the Lido Cord Outdoor family of seats by GamFratesi, together with the Bellagio Outdoor table by Gordon Guillaumier and the Belt Cord Outdoor dining little armchairs by Rodolfo Dordoni: a charming oasis where colours and organic shapes embrace nature, creating a perfect blend.

Renovated by the architect Ludovic Cochet from Bordeaux, the residence preserves the historicity of the place, as testified by the refined stuccoes on the ceiling and walls, painted in shades of cream and white, the wood panelling, large windows and full-height arches.

Inside, the large space dedicated to Minotti – curated by Minotti Studio – sees the alternation of living and dining areas that welcome the brand's most iconic designs. At the centre of the two living rooms, on the one hand, the soft curves of the Seymour sofa stand out, accompanied by the Jacques armchairs and the Seventies flavour of the Louwer coffee tables, all by Rodolfo Dordoni. On the other, the Horizonte modular seating system and the Daiki bergère by Marcio Kogan / studio mk27 catch the eye, together with the Torii armchairs by Nendo. The dining area features the sculptural lines of the Linha Fina table, also by Marcio Kogan / studio mk27, accompanied by the compact silhouette of the Sendai and Yoko dining little armchairs by Inoda+Sveje, in a delicate balance of classic and contemporary.

Minotti thus consolidates its historic partnership with the Silvera family in a place of exclusive design, highlighting the collection's ability to fit into any context, interpreting it with elegance.
