MINOTTI RENEWS ITS COLLABORATION WITH BIAF IN FLORENCE

From 26 September to 4 October 2026, Minotti renews its collaboration with BIAF – the International Biennial of Antiques in Florence – taking part as Official Sponsor in the 34th edition of the event. The fair unfolds within the extraordinary setting of Palazzo Corsini, one of the finest examples of Florentine Baroque architecture, overlooking the Lungarno Corsini.

For the occasion, Minotti unveils an unprecedented exhibition project in the prestigious Salone del Trono and selected corners along the corridors of the Piano Nobile, presenting a curated selection of furnishing pieces and accessories from the 2026 Collection alongside some of the brand's most iconic bestsellers.

At the heart of the display is the majestic Salone del Trono, located on the Piano Nobile of Palazzo Corsini, which hosts a rich programme of talks, meetings and cultural presentations throughout the duration of the event. Here, two spacious lounges take shape, characterised by the Orion seating system, designed by Giampiero Tagliaferri, accompanied by the Lilium and Elas armchairs, respectively by Hannes Peer and Marcio Kogan / Studio MK27.

The setting offers a privileged opportunity to discover the latest 2026 Collection, enhanced by the dialogue with a prestigious selection of artworks and set within an environment of extraordinary allure. Here, Minotti's contemporary yet timeless vision meets the cultural excellence and profound spirit of research that define BIAF.

Beyond Palazzo Corsini, the dialogue between art and design continues in the spaces of Minotti Firenze, in Piazza Strozzi, where the 2026 Collection will be presented alongside an exclusive selection of artworks by Tornabuoni Arte, in a narrative that interweaves contemporary design and artistic research.
